GLASCOW, 8th October, 1906.

I hereby certify that I have taken samples of every vatting of Manklo's White Horse Cellar Blend of Scotch Whisky used in bottling during the month of September, and the results of my analyses indicate that it conforms to the standard for Pot Still Scotch Whisky set up in the London case. I am also of opinion that it is an old Whisky of exceller's quality and flavour, which has been well matured in wood.

The last gymkhana of the season was held under most favourable circumstances, being graced by the presence of our Royal visitors, H.J.I. the Khedive and Lady Cromer, and being favoured by one of the brightest and warmest jays we have seen this year. H.H. the Khedive arrived quite early in the afternoon and waspresent in the royal be'x in time to witness the first event. It must have been about half past three that the carriage containing the Dake and Duchess of Consaught and Lady Cromer entired the ground, driving across the turf, preceded by mounted policemen and escorted by two officials on bicycles, and in froat of the grand stand and enclosure to the box, where they were greeted by the Khedive, Major General Bullock, Sir Vincent Corbett, Sir William Garstin and others. Princets Victoria arrived shortly afterwards and the law of the season o encloure. The events of the aftermoin were of a most popular and extertaining nature, and though there were several accidents there were none of a serious nature. The jumping competition was most interesting, Captain Leigh's provess evoking great enthusiasm, and the pig sticking competition caused general amusement, the pig, represented by an indated water skin at the end of a long rope, proving a most sporting and highly eccentric target. The polo match on do-nkeys too proved most entertaining, for the humble quadrupeds had no idea of what was expected of them, and ambled about in an aimless fashion, stumbling whenever they could, with a delightful unconcern of the rules of the game. It was a difficult game to follow, even though pace was game. It was a hough pace was difficult game to follow, even though pace was a ways, with us and nowbere more so than in difficult game to follow, even though pace was a ways, with us and nowbere more so than in a difficult game to follow, even though pace was a ways, with us and nowbere more so than in a difficult game to follow, even though pace was a ways, with us and nowbere more so than in a derandon, and doubtless afforded the don-they are the passing of so many of our late visitors. ZIZINIA THEATRE.

If circumstances compelled our absence on Monday at the first of a welcome series of plays, we are not conceited enough to jimagine we owe any apology other than to M, de Féraudy and his company. And it is not a mere shuffling excuse to say that if his Isidora Lechate of last Monday was as masterly and vehement as when we last saw him in the part, the performance was beyond criticism.

in the past, two perchaps at his best in the critician.

M de Féraudy is perhaps at his best in Les Affaires sont les Affaires "and it was a sine qua non that the play is included in his repertory; at the same time he no doubt fully realised the holdshee, of quoducing it here, for the Lechata, like the poor, are always with us and nowhere more so than in Alexandria; it is quite on the cards that some were present on Monday and we are sorry to have missed an interesting spectacle, viz.

The brunt of trying to keep the sudience interested fell upon Mines Van Doren (the injured wife) Brossan (the transgressing lussified) and the stage of the transgressing lussified about the injured wife.) M. Sévérin (the transgressing lussified about the injured hasband and incidentally the brother of the injured wife.) M. de Ferandy's part was quite a supernumerary one and he charmed his audience more by his reposeful speech and gesture than by anything very striking in the shape of dialogue.

NOTES FROM CYPRUS.

MID-LENT CARNIVAL.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

(PROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

Larinace, 28th March, 1907.

The so-called Mid-Leid carnival has been kept this year by the neather or marked manner than usual. Certainly the speckage of a few whintedulty, slovenly dressed near parading the streets in scattered three and threes, with apparently no definite scheme of annexement and with an entire scheme of fan and gately, other than the lugableous noisee which they utter by way of same, cannel be inspiring even to themselves and seems very far removed from those cheeffal carnival access with which one is familiar elsewhere. We may however see the idea for the control of the series and such like events, borrowed from these controls and such like events, borrowed from these controls of the Mediterranean, may become a recognised annual flature.

The annual sports of the English school at Nicosia tiock place on Saturday, 23rd instant, on the crisket ground. There was a large attendance, including his Excellency the High Commissioner, and Lady King Harman, Sir Inbert Hiddulph and the Covernment House party. MONEY AND SHARE MARKET

(PROM OUR PINANCIAL CORRESPONDENT)

London, March 28

The Money Market.

The soney Market.

The soney market, which was very easy at the beginning of the week, has firmed up for the settlement, and whereas money was fairly plentful at 3 per cent, the charge is now fully 1 per cent. higher, though there is no difficulty 1 per cent. higher, though there is no difficulty 1 in getting all the accomodation required. It is thought that the action of the American Secretary to the Treasury, by which some 17,000,000 dollars are released for the benefit of the market in New York, will prevent the necessity of gold abijments for the present Early in the week there were some large quantities of gold obtainable, but America only took £500,000 of it, declining to pay is high rate, and it looks as if the large bill-houses and wittle prespect of making profits out of exports in the near

The Stock Markets.

The Stock Markets.

Very exagerated accounts have been circulated as regards the condition of affairs on the Stock Exchange this week. There has no doubt been considerable pension, but in the best circles it was well-known that the eccount open was comparatively small, and that no very large house was in any way involved. With the exception of four failures of small significance, the account has gone smoothly enough.

At the same time, it is known that two At the same time, it is known that two bouses of somewhat larger proportions have been assisted, and that a certain amount of weekage his satill to find a market. There is no probability, however, of this being pressed for sale, as both these accounts have been taken over by firms of colossal wealth, who can well afford to keep them for much higher prices. The crisis, such as it is, has come and gone. It his existed largely in imagination, but in the end will no doubt be productive of a considerable increase of confidence. Indeed, things are brighter to-day than they have been for some time past, and prices are certainly at a level to attract bous fide investors.

In the debacle on Saturday Consols were at for the account, but they have since shown a steady recovery, and leave off to-day at 85% for cash.

A satisfactory feature is the firmness of home railway stocks, which are now receiving good supp-rt.
